

Perspectives: How different groups saw their world

Maori Perspective

Concept of land ownership:

Te Hui P6

Views on Pakeha activities:

Te Rerenga P8, P10

-
-
-
-
-

How many of these are positive? How many are negative?

Views on missionaries:

Te Wiki P2

Views on British Government officials:

Te Hui P10,13

Maori agreed that:

Te Rerenga P13

Clapham Group / Missionaries Perspective

Perspective

Te Rerenga P6

The C_____ G_____ saw their roles as protecting n_____ p_____ from B_____ s_____ and traders living and working in New Zealand.

Te Wiki P9, P21

The Clapham Group established the

Church M_____ Society

H_____ W_____ and William C_____ were missionaries who believed that the Treaty would help to protect Maori.

Te Tohu P18

Wesleyan missionary John Hobbs believed that the British subjects were behaving b_____ and that the way to sort this issue was to

Clapham Group had links to

Colonial Office Perspective

Te Rerenga P9, P11, P16, P18

Te Wiki P10

Concerned about activities of traders and settlers who were

Hobson

_____ (P9)

Busby

They wanted:

- L_____ and O_____ (P11)
- To protect l_____ ownership and control land p_____ . (P18)

To get this they needed control over _____

Te Hui P7

Settlers Perspective

Te Rerenga P15, P18, P19

The British saw it as their right to _____ in New Zealand.

Settlers also wanted law and order established. Why do you think they might have wanted this?

The N_____ Z_____ C_____ led by W_____ saw it as their right to purchase land for prospective s_____ without the involvement of the G_____.

Definitions:

A missionary is someone who is sent to deliver a message. Christian missionaries were sent by their home country to take the Gospel (Good News) of Christianity to other lands.

Pakeha – In the early 1800s it was a general term for a white person.

So the general consensus was that a treaty was needed.

Perspectives: How different groups saw their world Answers

Maori Perspective

Concept of land ownership:
Te Hui P6

Maori granted permission to use their land but it was usually for a specific purpose for a certain amount of time

Views on Pakeha activities:
Te Rerenga P8,P10

- Land being sold too cheaply
- Traded goods like nails are useful
- Food traded with Pakeha increased whanau health
- Pakeha were behaving badly
- Not receiving fair price for traded goods

How many of these are positive? How many are negative?
 3 negative 2 positive

Views on missionaries:
Te Wiki P2

Missionaries have taught way of peace.

Views on British Government officials:
Te Hui P10,13

“We chiefs are the governors of this land. I, Rewa, say to you go back to your land.” Moka says the same.

Maori agreed that:
Te Rerenga P13

“We are all agreed – something must be done to stop our land being taken by foreigners.”

Clapham Group / Missionaries Perspective
Te Rerenga P6

The Clapham Group saw their roles as protecting native peoples from British settlers and traders living and working in New Zealand.

Te Wiki P 9 P21

The Clapham Group established the Church Missionary Society

Henry Williams and William Colenso were missionaries who believed that the Treaty would help to protect Maori.

Te Tohu P18

Wesleyan missionary John Hobbs believed that the British subjects were behaving badly and that the way to sort this issue was to give sovereignty to Queen Victoria so that her officers could effectively govern.

Clapham Group had links to

Colonial Office Perspective

Hobson

Te Rerenga P9, P11, P16, P18

Te Wiki P10

Concerned about activities of traders and settlers who were buying land and not treating natives well (P9)

Busby

They wanted:

- Law and Order (P11)
- To protect land ownership and control land purchase. (P18)

To get this, they needed control over British people living in NZ.

Te Hui P7

Settlers Perspective
Te Rerenga P15, P18, P19

British saw it as their right to settle in New Zealand.

Settlers also wanted law and order established. Why do you think they might have wanted this? So they could farm, trade and use land without fear on interference from others.

The New Zealand Company led by Wakefield saw it as their right to purchase land for prospective settlers without the involvement of the Government.

Definitions:

A missionary is someone who is sent to deliver a message. Christian missionaries were sent by their home country to take the Gospel (Good News) of Christianity to other lands.

Pakeha – In the early 1800s it was a general term for a white person.

So the general consensus was that a treaty was needed.

